Concerns were raised re the number of HGVS using the A345 through Enford village. It was agreed that the issue would be raised with the relevant Wiltshire Council officers, and reply feedback to the Tidworth Area Board.

Answer to the HGVS using the A345 through Enford village question from Peter Binley – Head of Highways Asset Management & Commissioning, Wiltshire Council.

The problems of increasing vehicle sizes on our roads are appreciated. The introduction of kerbs can help define the road edge for drivers and provides structural strength to the road edge. However they have limited value in restraining vehicles, especially the larger ones, and in some circumstances can deflect vehicles into the oncoming traffic. The cost of installing kerbs can be substantial and with a backlog of maintenance required on the highway network this is not likely to be a high priority at this site in the present circumstances.

Part of the problem appears to be the hedge on the other side of the road which is causing vehicles to move towards the centre of the road, with oncoming vehicles pulling over to the road edge to avoid them. Cutting the hedge is the responsibility of the landowner, and our local highway team will contact the Parish Council in order to approach the owner about getting the hedge cut. This may need to be followed up by enforcement action, but we would hope this issue can be resolved by agreement.

The traffic count information does not indicate any large increase in traffic in recent years. However, this is an A class road which does provide an important link for the local economy and businesses on the east side of the county and this is likely to remain the case.

The verge marker posts will be replaced when the matter of the hedge has been resolved.

Concerns were raised re missing signage on Coombe Lane, Enford.

Answer to the Coombe Lane sign question from Adrian Hampton – Head Local Highway Weather Emergency Services, Highways and Streetscene – South, Wiltshire Council.

I recognise the issues around this reported sign. I am aware of the history and have received many such requests for similar sign maintenance/ replacement.

The council has committed to meeting its obligations stated in its Highway Inspection Manual to ensure expectations and services delivered are aligned. The manual covers the replacement of signs.

	Regrettably signs such as the one described are not covered by the inspection manual. Which means that this council does not replace these signs when they become damaged, go missing or are removed. However, we would allow the parish council to fund the replacement if they feel this is appropriate. I know the person who raised this will be disappointed, but I trust Wiltshire Council's position is now clear. We have been promoting the expected service levels through Cllr Mr Whitehead's Newsletters to town and parish councils and have included the Highway Inspection Manual on many of the issues. We have also discussed the service levels at the annual Parish and Town Council Highway Evening Meetings. I will ensure the service levels are covered again in the January issue of Cllr Mr Whitehead's Newsletter and I will ensure it is raised at the Parish and Town Highway Evening Meeting. The Chairman thanked Cllr Connolly for his update.

- The issue was highlighted that Fittleton should be part of the Amesbury Area Board and not Tidworth due to it’s closer location and association to Amesbury.
It was agreed that the issue would be raised with the relevant Wiltshire Council officers, and reply feedback to the Tidworth Area Board.

Answer to Alan Wood’s question from Steve Milton – Head of Service for Community Engagement and Governance, Wiltshire Council.

The Boundaries of Wiltshire’s area boards were agreed and set in 2009 following a very extensive consultation exercise. There was much debate at that time about the possibility of Amesbury and Tidworth forming one community area. However, public opinion was very much against this proposal and the Council decided to keep the areas separate.

The area boards are formed of electoral division, which in turn are made up of groups of parishes. It was the agreed that parishes would move with the Electoral Division to which they are attached through their elected unitary councillor.

	When setting the boundaries, the Council agreed with partners that it would avoid changes unless triggered by a local governance review. This was done to provide certainty for partners and to enable services to be aligned and integrated. However, the council recognised that for parishes on the edge of a community area, particularly in large rural areas, individual parishes may feel a greater sense of affinity with a neighbouring area. To address this it was agreed that parishes would be free to attend neighbouring area board meetings should they wish, although for grants and funding they would remain attached to their original area. Demographics do change over time. Army rebasing in the Tidworth and Amesbury area are likely to impact by 2020, when the Council may have to review the democratic governance arrangements again. Until that time, there are no plans to change the boundaries of the two area boards involved. The Chairman thanked everybody for their updates.
13	Date of Next Meeting The next meeting of the Tidworth Area Board will be held on Monday 16 January 2017 at the Wellington Academy.
