A list of the items of equipment available to loan out would be sent out to all youth organisations and clubs in the community.

Housing - Meeting Local Need

Janet O'Brien, Head of Housing - Strategy and Assets, was in attendance to provide an update on affordable housing in the Malmesbury area.

Ms. O'Brien revealed that the national policy on housing was to increase owner occupation, make best use of existing social housing stock, reduce the burden on the public sector (housing benefit bill), to increase the supply of new homes and to promote independent living in the community. She noted that the basic stock profile for the Malmesbury area was as follows:

	Malmesbury	Wiltshire
Owner Occupation	75.1%	68.3%
Social Housing	9.7%	14.7%
Private	13.5%	15.4%
Other	1.7%	1.6%

Out of the 1,395 homes proposed to be built between 2006 and 2026, as at April 2015, 25 new affordable homes had been built. With 1,879 households on the register and the median house price for Malmesbury at approximately £300,000, Malmesbury emerged as one of the relatively expensive places to buy a house.

The next steps for providing affordable housing in Malmesbury area would involve commissioning research at community area level & agreeing priorities with local communities and partners to understand local need. There was also the need to consider options to increase choices for those not able to meet needs in the open market.

On being questioned about the relatively low number of people purported to be on the register, Ms. O'Brien revealed that the criteria for joining the register had been made tighter and the data had been cleansed, hence the low figures. She noted that separate registers were kept for different categories of needs. She emphasised the need for people with housing needs to get registered and acknowledged the concerns expressed about difficulties faced by people on low income and their inability to enter the housing market due to a lack of affordability.

Janet O'Brien noted that the housing strategy would be going to consultation very shortly and would be a more effective tool to work with. She emphasised the need to work with local communities and organisations in order to determine where local priorities lie.

In response to questions posed regarding mechanisms in place for parish and town councils to determine local housing needs, Ms. O'Brien explained that local surveys conducted with Wiltshire Council actually revealed that parish councils had an embedded strategy on planning processes and understanding local needs.

With regard to the projected stock of developments coming into the Malmesbury area Ms O' Brien informed the meeting that this was going to be phased over the next few years and more detailed information on what was in the pipeline of delivering houses would be supplied. Mention was made of well-known and established developers and other affordable local housing schemes operating in the area.

Community First Responders

A presentation was delivered by David Wilmot and Jonathan Wardwick-Smith from the South Western Ambulance Service NHS Foundation Trust's Community Responder Officers.

The meeting was informed that volunteers were trained to attend emergency calls received by the ambulance service and to provide care until the ambulance arrives. Having a trained volunteer in the community who could arrive at an emergency scene in a matter of minutes could and usually made a big difference to patient survival. The organisation set up was described as a community partnership between NHS and local ambulance service trusts.

A physical demonstration of how to use a defibrillator in the event of an emergency was given.

It was revealed that there were just over 100 defibrillator schemes set up in Wiltshire and Community First Responders were looking to recruit more volunteers. On being questioned about training requirements, the meeting was informed that training usually took two weekends and volunteers were asked to be available for at least 12 hours a week. The minimum age for registering was 18 years and uniforms were also supplied. On the issue of the 200 metre rule on range of operation it was explained that the 200m rule was a control mechanism and guide for the range of distance within which a defibrillators could be used by a registered volunteer to allow for quick access and use.

For storage, it was recommended that the equipment was kept in an unlocked cupboard and to be checked monthly.

	The average cost of defibrillators was estimated to be in the range of £700 - £1,500 depending on the type of scheme signed up. All private owners of defibrillators were encouraged to register their equipment in order to increase chances of accessibility and survival for those very precious moments within which a life could be saved.

41	The Big Pledge The Community Engagement Manager took the meeting through ‘Road to Rio – The Big Pledge activity challenge’- a series of sporting activities like running, cycling, walking and swimming simulating similar activities that would be taking place at the Olympic games in Rio. Mr. Phipps emphasised that teams from all over Wiltshire – businesses, schools, town/ parish councils, community groups, sports clubs and families were free to register without any charge and revealed that over 500 people had already signed up to take part in various sporting activity challenges.
