Please could the Area Board provide an update as to:

- a) The status and contents of the feasibility report?
- b) The way forward in relation to these two items?

Response from Mark Stansby- Senior Engineer, Highways Assets & Commissioning

Our last CATG meeting took place on June 29 (see minutes attached). These minutes are due to be presented to Calne Area Board at the meeting on 19 September for ratification.

At the CATG meeting, the group members were updated on a response to our initial consultation with Calne Town Council's Development Committee, which raised a number of concerns about our proposal. However, as these comments were made prior to the last election, it was agreed that the proposal be considered again by the Town Council (to include their new Councillors) for further discussion at our next CATG, which is scheduled to take place on 12th October. Essentially no decisions have been made at this time. It is also worth noting that no public consultation has taken place thus far.

I have attached a copy of the feasibility study which is currently under discussion.

Responses to the specific question raised by Mr Mark Lewis:

- A) The feasibility study is currently with Calne Town Council for consideration.
- B) The CATG will make recommendations to the Area Board once the views of the Town Council have been considered.
