Project Summary: Last year we set up a gardening project with the army for local patients who suffer from social isolation and or mild - medium depression caused by their social circumstances. The aim is to have a gardening group where they can improve mental health and wellbeing and form friendships. This is part of their ultimate health care to get them back to being independent, healthy and happy. We require £1,500 to help cover insurance, first aid training and any replacement equipment.
