

Photographs to show the position of the extraction flue at the Corner Food Bar. The building painted white is an occupied residential property. The yard it sits above is the outside area of the residential property.

