What are the Fatal Five?

- Careless driving
- Drink and drug driving
- Not wearing a seatbelt
- Distracted (using a mobile phone)
- Speeding

Road users who commit one of the Fatal Five offences are far more likely to be involved in a fatal collision than those who do not.

People are dying on our roads as a result of motorists' poor driving, reckless decisions and momentary lapses in concentration.

Fatal collisions are heart-breaking – for the family, for the community, and for the responding emergency services staff who have to witness the tragedy and subsequent aftermath and we've seen too many this year already.

Stopping any more deaths from occurring as a result of something unnecessary and totally avoidable is a top priority for us.

Across the Summer, our Community Policing Teams, along with speed enforcement officers and the Roads Policing Unit will be making sure motorists are being safe and driving smart.

A man has been disqualified from driving for the foreseeable future after crashing his car while drink driving.

Aaron Watkins, 31, of Pellau Road, Port Talbot, was involved in a single vehicle collision on the M4 eastbound near Junction 16 for Royal Wootton Bassett on August 13, when the vehicle he was driving rolled onto its side.

He escaped serious injury but was subsequently charged with drink driving after blowing over the legal limit.

In a hearing on Wednesday, Watkins pleaded guilty and was disqualified from holding or obtaining a driving licence for three-and-a-half years.

He was also fined £100 and required to pay court costs of £85 and a victim surcharge of £40.

Drink driving is one of the fatal five offences, all of which increase the risk of you being involved in a serious or fatal collision.

For the past month, Wiltshire Police has been running a Road Safety Campaign focusing on enforcement and raising awareness of the fatal five offences: speeding, drink and drug driving, using a phone while driving, not wearing a seatbelt, and careless or dangerous driving.

If you suspect somebody of drink driving, please call 101 or 999 in an emergency and give as much information as possible including a description of the driver, vehicle and direction of travel.
