Westbury Police 16 August

What are the Fatal Five?

- Careless driving
- Drink and drug driving
- Not wearing a seatbelt
- Distracted (using a mobile phone)
- Speeding

Road users who commit one of the Fatal Five offences are far more likely to be involved in a fatal collision than those who do not.

People are dying on our roads as a result of motorists' poor driving, reckless decisions and momentary lapses in concentration.

Fatal collisions are heart-breaking – for the family, for the community, and for the responding emergency services staff who have to witness the tragedy and subsequent aftermath and we've seen too many this year already.

Stopping any more deaths from occurring as a result of something unnecessary and totally avoidable is a top priority for us.

Across the Summer, our Community Policing Teams, along with speed enforcement officers and the Roads Policing Unit will be making sure motorists are being safe and driving smart.

Westbury Police 9 August

Wiltshire Police are committed to road safety. A new campaign has been launched focusing on enforcement and education in relation to the fatal five offences – excess speed, drink/drug driving, careless/dangerous driving, driving without a seatbelt and using a mobile phone whilst driving.

Speed checks are underway in Westbury and the surrounding villages this week.
Please watch your speed
