Introduction Fraud in the public sector

Public Sector fraud costs the UK economy billions each year.

Source: National Fraud Authority: Annual Fraud Indicator, March 2012

Introduction Purpose of your fraud briefing

- Opportunity for councillors to consider fraud detection performance, compared to similar local authorities
- Reviews current counter fraud strategy and priorities
- Discuss local and national fraud risks
- Reflect local priorities in a proportionate response to those risks

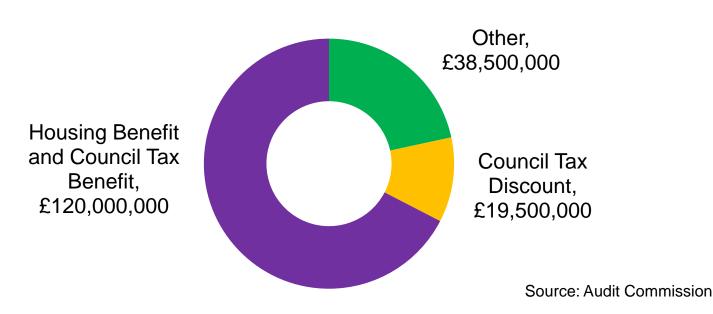

Your council is compared with the unitary authorities of the south west and south east regions

National Picture 2012/13

107,000 total cases detected with value of £178m (excluding social housing fraud)

Nationally, the number of detected frauds has fallen by 14% since 2011/12 and the value by less than 1%

Detected Fraud

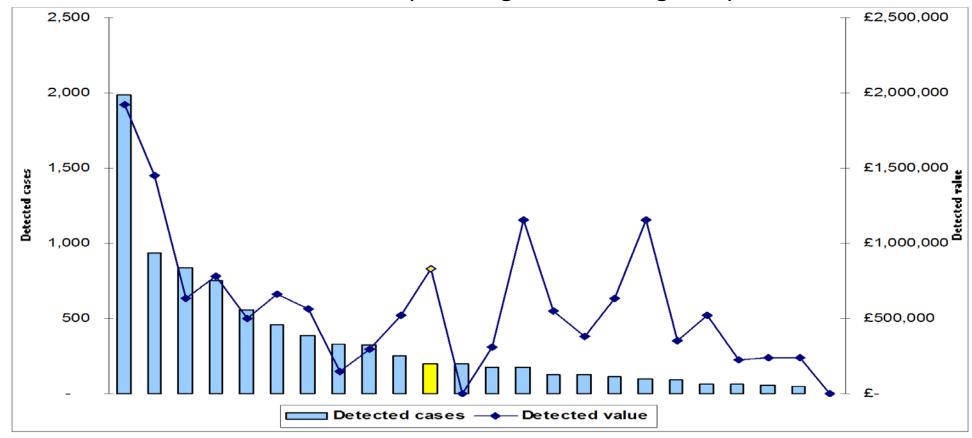

Interpreting fraud detection results

- Contextual and comparative information needed to interpret results
- Detected fraud is indicative, not definitive, of counter fraud performance (prevention and deterrence should not be overlooked)
- No fraud detected does not mean no fraud committed (fraud will always be attempted and even with the best prevention measures some will succeed)
- Council who look for fraud, and look in the right way, will find fraud (there is no such thing as a small fraud, just a fraud that has been detected early)

Your council is highlighted in yellow in the graphs that follow

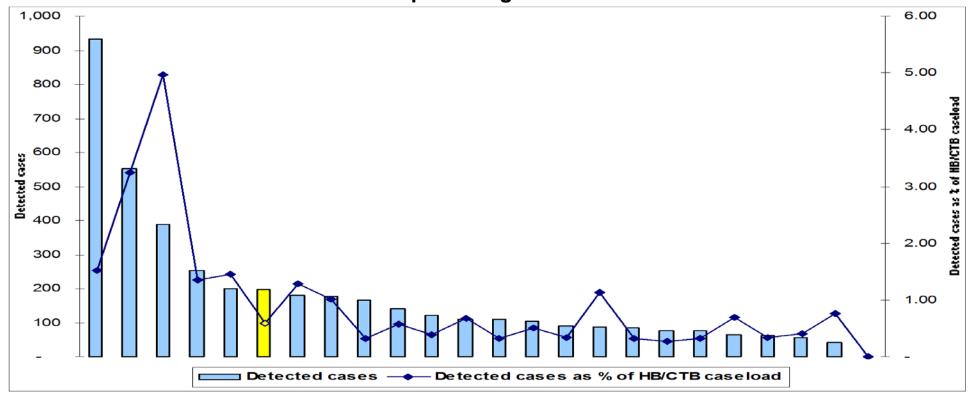

How your council compares to other Southern unitary authorities

Southern average: 147 cases, valued at £66,679

Southern unitary authorities with housing stock 2012/13 Social housing fraud Properties outside of Housing Stock

It is estimated that:

- 2 per cent of social housing stock outside London is subject to tenancy fraud;
- tenancy fraud represents the second largest financial loss to fraud in local government, costing £845 million in 2013; and
- when combined with the loss to tenancy fraud suffered by housing associations, the total value in England is £1.8 billion – making tenancy fraud five times greater than the annual loss due to housing benefit fraud.

The Prevention of Social Housing Fraud Act 2013 criminalises tenancy fraud

The legislation gives councils investigation powers and the ability to prosecute tenancy fraudsters on behalf of housing associations

Should you be using this legislation to work in partnership with local housing associations?
