The project will enable our members, the majority from rural areas around Chippenham, to participate and experience a variety of sporting activities. This will not only benefit them physically, but also mentally by being part of a team and learning to make or assist in decision making. It will also encourage them to become more socially aware and therefore unlikely to be involved in anti-social behaviour because they have nothing to do and no where to go. The project at present involves around 45 young people, but this number is growing all the time, and if we can offer more variety on our programme of activities, then who knows how many more it could attract.
