It's the intention of the local Neighbourhood Policing Team (NPT) and the Youth Development Team to be able to purchase a Bustard and, with the voluntary help of a local artist, bring together young people in the community to name and decorate him before placing him in a prominent location in the trail where they will stay until they become part of the launch of Warminster Festival on 6th Oct 2012 when the flock of Bustards will come together in the town park for a day of art and fun, after which the Bustards will be auctioned off and proceeds going to local deserving charities. The aim of taking part in this great event is to see the local NPT and the young people working together to raise the profile of the Youth Development Centre in the community and to show that young people really do want to be involved in community initiatives. | | |
