Important: Please do not type/write in paragraphs – This section is limited to 800 characters only (inclusive of spaces)	The organisers have first-hand experience of the popularity of the Barn in use for community musical events. Now is the time to follow the valuable work done by other voluntary organisations over the past three years and contribute towards a more coherent relationship with English Heritage. The immediate effect of the project will be its impact on 400 children and their attitudes to music making. Most of these children will be in immediate pre- and post-transition stages in the school system and will benefit socially from the integrated activity. The longer term effect will be to encourage a greater degree of integration of the Tithe Barn into the cultural and social life of the community.

These elements might include a removable safe covering for the hazardous threshing floor; lighting bars to avoid having to install lighting towers for every use. This landmark large scale production will be a high calibre performance combining the amateur community with high quality professionalism from outside.
